

Don't miss an all-star lineup at HIDS:
 May 19–20

Personalize your agenda

Whether you're focused on forensic science or public safety, we're all united by one common goal—finding the truth. Prepare to be inspired by some incredible stories showcasing the power of a united criminal justice community.

Meet our featured speakers:

United we help protect victims—join activist Ashley Spence for an inspiring keynote panel discussion examining her case through the eyes of the members of the criminal justice community that united to bring down a notorious serial rapist.

United we help prevent crimes—legendary homicide detective Retired Sgt. Frank Salerno recalls how he helped end the Night Stalker's reign of terror in the city of Los Angeles. Learn about the DNA link that could have stopped the infamous serial killer years prior.

United we solve crimes faster—discover how Lieutenant Colonel Sylvain Hubac utilizes the decentralized forensic DNA capabilities of the French Gendarmerie to protect millions of French citizens.

United we help create safer communities—Tim Schellberg, president of Gordon Thomas Honeywell Governmental Affairs, along with a global panel of judges, presents a look back at some of the most influential cases in DNA Hit of the Year.

United we find answers—Miguel Marino, director of the Forensic Genetics Laboratory at the Public Prosecutor's Office in Mendoza, Argentina, highlights how rapid DNA helped solve two cases in less than 24 hours.

United we help exonerate the innocent—join director of public safety Fred Harran and exoneree James Tillman as they discuss the wrongful conviction that sent James to prison for over 18 years. Discover how he became the first person in the state of Connecticut released using DNA.
