

Join us for a LERN live event series June 15-17, 2021

Join us for a live event series June 15-17 on the LERN virtual event hub. Our virtual event will offer live webinars and panel talks featuring industry experts on the topics of biobanking, cell therapy, SARS-CoV-2 research, and food and beverage testing.

Visit LERN virtual hub for a completely unique way of interacting with our team and our products. We've employed cutting-edge technology to bring our lab equipment, liquid handling, and essential plastics products to life online. This platform will offer information, support, and productivity tools that aim to optimize product performance and accelerate your next scientific breakthrough.

Follow these steps to access the event:

- Register now
- Log in, edit your profile, and add sessions of interest to your calendar
- Join the event when it begins, then access these resources throughout 2021

Check out our Virtual solutions center, including Future Lab exhibit, 360° Immersive Lab Experience, and Accelerate Science Laboratory Design Workshop.

About the LERN virtual hub

The LERN virtual hub is a convenient place to discover and interact with laboratory equipment and consumables and learn about new applications. Gain access to product support experts who can help you find the right solution for your science and provide answers to your questions
